ELECTRICITY

FOR LIGHTING

Is only expensive to people who are wasteful and careless. To you who are naturally careful, it does not come high.

It is economical because it can be quickly turned off when not needed. With gas or kerosene there is the temptation to let light burn when not needed to save bother of lighting and adjusting. In some homes the electric light bills amount to only one or two dollars per month. You can probably get some kind of artificial light for less money than electric light, but does it save you anything when it limits opportunities for work and recreation—ruins your eyesight—smokes your walls—mars decorations and increases household work. You could probably save a dollar tomorrow by going without your meals but it wouldn't be economy. It is not so much what you save, but how you save that counts.

Lectures Youthful Offender.

A dramatic incident marked the opening of the present term of the circuit court in Albany when Claud Raines, a mere youth, pleaded guilty to giving liquor to a minor and female and was sentenced to 18 days in jail by Judge George H. Burnett. After hearing the plea of the boy the judge, before a crowded courtroom, lectured the young offender, giving him fatherly advice as to his future conduct and received the young man's promise to live up to the law in the future. Upon this promise the judge and prosecutor shook hands and the young man went to jail for his 18 days' sentence the happiest prisoner ever taken out of the local courtroom, and those present complimented the court for his course in disposing of the case.

CROSS RIVER TO POLK

ESCAPED CONVICTS SEEN NEAR BUENA VISTA.

His Young Son—Use Boy as Shield.

After clubbing into unconsciousness Henry Starr, a farmhand, and kidnapping his son late Wednesday afternoon, two convicts, Harry Brennan and John Wormsdorf, who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary last Saturday, are rapidly making their escape in a buggy and are believed now to be near Suver, says yesterday's Oregonian.

It is thought that the escaped criminals hope to use their captive, who lives near Buena, as a shield to ward off bullets when they are overtaken and an attempt is made to capture them.

Though the two convicts escaped last week the chase has not yet been taken up by the state officials looking toward the recapture of the men, though Warden Curtis declared late Wednesday night that he would form a posse early Thursday morning and start on their trail.

Both men "Trusties" at the prison were sent into a hayfield, when they took the easy chance to escape, and with pitchforks as weapons the duo are "beating it" for liberty. When last seen they were driving in Starr's buggy south of Buena Vista at a rapid rate, with young Starr held between them.

Though details of the hearing of Starr's meager here, it is said that his injuries may prove fatal. It appears that Starr and his young son were driving into Buena Vista from a farm, a few miles out of town, where Starr is employed.

Man Refuses Rig to Convicts.

He was accosted by two men, who told him they wanted the horse and buggy; that they had no money, and didn't intend to buy the outfit, anyhow, but that they needed it at once. Fearful of losing time, which was precious, and seeing that parleying with the farmhand was needless, the convicts made a desperate drive toward the South, leaving Starr lying as if dead in the road.

Both Men Trusties.

Brennan, who is the most daring criminal of the two, was serving two years from Umattilla County for larceny, and had but three months more to serve. Wormsdorf was serving one and one-half years from Multnomah County, and had nine months more to serve.

The deed of the convicts is one of the most daring in the history of the penal institution of the state and recalls the escape of the famous desperado, Harry Tracey, who kept the Washington authorities guessing for so long a time in 1905.

Search on the quiet had been made by the prison authorities about Salem and in the immediate vicinity of the prison where the convicts escaped, but no trace of the convicts had been secured. Now that the officials are aware which way the men are traveling and their style of travel they will be pursued. It is believed they are headed for Albany.

Farmers May Form Posse.

From Buena Vista it was learned that several farmers had declared themselves anxious to aid in the pursuit of the fugitives, and to this end would organize a posse of their own, whether the state officials formed such or not.

RUSH WORK ON CANAL

Great Ditch Will Surely Be Completed Before 1915.

"Work on the Panama Canal in its magnitude would surprise any man who saw it for the first time," remarked W. M. Hood, of Virginia, representative of a Cincinnati house.

"I spent two months there this year, and my first view of the big ditch almost took my breath away. The efforts of the French to dig the canal were pitifully compared to what our people are doing. This is illustrated in the difference in size of the cars and engines used to haul away the dirt. It would be possible almost to place one of the French engines in the cab of an American locomotive now in use."

"We have 25,000 men at work, and the payroll is $1,500,000 a month, or 42 cents per man. No paper money is used to pay the men, because of the fear that it might carry germs of disease. The dirt is flying so fast that it is marvelous. There are 250 engines and 200 cars at work, and the time required to unload 40 cars is less than 15 minutes."

"The great work, of course, is in the Culebra cut which will take longer to complete than any other part of the ditch. It requires digging down through 12 feet of solid rock, to a base of 400 feet. They are using a ton of dynamite every day on this work alone."

"I have not the slightest doubt that the canal will be completed by 1915. Colonel Goethals is the best man that could be found to superintend the work. He is on the job every minute, and can be seen any day at 6:30 in the morning at some part of the canal."

"One of the most surprising things to me was the perfect climate and sanitary conditions. I was there for nearly eight weeks, and in all that time did not see a mosquito. They have grasscutters who go around every day, and grass is not permitted to grow within 100 feet of a house. The entire Canal Zone is as clean as any army camp, made so by Colonel Goethals who cleaned up Cuba and Manila."
